THIS FIRE COST $7,500.

A. H. Merrifield's Factory at Williamsville and Town Bridge Destroyed.

Brattleboro, March 2.—Arthur M. Merrifield's chair back and basket factory in Williamsville, 10 miles north of Brattleboro, was burned with its contents Saturday night, also a covered bridge on the main highway.

The building caught fire near the smokestack about 6 o'clock. The loss will probably reach $8,000. The mill had three floors and gave employment to 30 men. A large quantity of unfinished stock and lumber was burned. The mill was the principal business place in the village. It was partly insured. Another mill owned by Mr. Merrifield was burned 12 years ago.

The highway bridge was about 30 feet from the mill. It had been in use about 50 years and its destruction means a loss of about $1,500 to the town.

JINGLES AND JESTS

"Little Johnnies."

Johnny hung his little sister;
She was dead before they missed her.
Johnny's allus up 't' tricks.
Ain't he cute?—he's only six.

Johnny with his little axe
Dealt his brother cruel wicks.
He don't care if mamma kicks.
Ain't he cute?—he's only six.

John has gone from bad to worse;
Now his father's in a house.
Sneared him with a load of bricks.
Ain't he cute?—he's only six.

Johnny saw a buzz-saw buzz
Like a bike, and thought it wuzz.
Johnny's corpse is full of nicks.
Ain't he cute?—he's only six.

—Cornell Widow.

A Bond Deal.

"I want to get rid of some bonds."
"Out of my line," replied the lawyer.
"But these are matrimonial bonds,"
rejoined the caller, putting a different face on the matter.—New York Times.

Legitimate There.

"I have been invited to invest for big profits in an irrigating company."
"That's an enterprise that can afford to have a great deal of water in its stock."—Baltimore American.

Procuring Information.

Brooke—The sexton seems to find out a great deal about the members of the choir.

Lynn—Yes. He pumps the organ—Woman's Home Companion.

The First Requirement.

"I wish," said the callow youth, "I could learn how to shave quickly."
"First catch your hare," quoted his sarcastic friend.—Philadelphia Press.

Rural Cleverness.

My cousin Alfred Williams, he
Ain't had advantages like me—
(My mamma says not to say "ain't")
Bubbaus it gives my speech a taint.
My cousin Alfred—he don't know
A thing about th' latest shew,
Nor any of the latest pokes,
But he knows lots of things to say—
One of 'em rattles on this way:
"What's your name?"
"Puddin' Tame!"
"Where you goin'?"
"Down the lane!"

An' one is where you hafta say:
"I saw a woolly worn to-day."
An' then he says, "I one it," then
You say, "I two it," then again
He says, "I three it"—an' you go
Right on ahead, till first you know
You say, "I eight it!" Soon's you spoke
You see that minute where's the joke!

My cousin Alfred Williams, he
Is all the time a-catchin' me
With jokes I never heard at all,
But papa says he can recall,
For papa, one time, where he grew
To be a boy was country, too—
But cousin Alfred's jokes is smart—
I'm goin' to learn them all by heart;
An' best of all the lot o' his
Is what I say that this one is:
"The less you know,
In my skin—I'll jump out
An' you jump in!"
—Harper's Magazine.

"Mrs. Van Astorblit called upon me yesterday morning," said Mrs. Woodby proudly.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Chellus, with affected indifference. "I heard she was interesting herself in charitable work, but I thought it was among the very poor."—Exchange.

The Right Title.

Geddis—Dudley is publishing his verses at his own expense. He calls the book "Wisdom In Fancy." Queer title, isn't it? Wise—Yes, but it's pretty near right. To be exact, he should call it "Wisdom's Infancy."—Exchange.

Ah, Yes!

He let his chimney smoke because
He thus saved many a dollar.
But when his neighbor's sewage flowed
Down past his house from up the road
You should have heard him boller.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Jailbird.

The summit of Pike's peak is 14,127 feet above the level of the sea.

Several hundred thermometers have been stolen from street cars in Chicago.

An effort is being made by a number of Boston admirers of the editor to purchase the historic Horace Greeley homestead near Amherst, N. H.

Abraham Johnson. It is alleged, catches catfish in the Passaic river, New Jersey, by means of a stowplop which he plants in the stream. He says catfish like a dark place at night.

Peter Brown, driving to market with a mule near Cochecon Center, N. Y., was attacked in the road by a bear, and in the fight that followed between the mule and the bear the latter was knocked out.

"Now, boys," said the teacher of the juvenile class, "can any of you give a proof of your own that the earth is not flat?"

"I can," replied the bright chap at the foot of the bunch. "If it was flat you could see the north pole with a telescope."

QUARANTINE PREVENTS FUNERAL

Of Fred Roppe Which Was to Have Been Held Yesterday.

Randolph, March 2.—The funeral of Fred Roppe which was to have been held from his late home on Sunday afternoon, was prevented by a quarantine having been placed upon the house for scarlet fever, his little son, Gerald, having been taken with this disease. Consequently no public funeral was held, but the burial service followed soon after the appointed hour. The fire company of which he was a member, followed the remains to the place of interment at Southview cemetery where the usual burial services were observed. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family, and it seems especially hard that the illness of the only child should follow so soon. Two or three other cases of the disease have developed and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the contagion.

Rev. Homer White is improving from his illness with a sharp attack of bronchitis.

Miss Lottie Flint has returned from her vacation at home and is again in Bell Brothers' store.

A dance was held in Grange hall on Friday night, with a party from Bethel Gilead in attendance.

Mrs. Gertrude Terrie Scott of Barre arrived on Saturday for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Terrie.

Mrs. Laura Cushman left here on Saturday for her home in Claremont, N. H., after passing six weeks with friends in town. She will return here for a time in April.

Rev. F. A. Wells of Randolph Center occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church on Sunday March 1st in exchange with Dr. Cooper.

Miss Esther George is recovering from her illness with the grippe, and her mother, Mrs. Ed. George, who has been here caring for her has left for her home in Richmond, Vt.

Mrs. Ada Spaulding, the efficient housekeeper at the sanatorium for the last two years, leaves there about the middle of March and will go into the family of Mrs. A. B. Tewksbury for a time. Mrs. George Dryer succeeds her at the sanatorium.

WAS TWICE TRIED.

James Bradley Paid One Fine and Jailed on Another Charge.

Randolph, March 2.—James Bradley, whose residence is said to have been in St. Albans, and who is reported to have been a former employee of the Central Vermont railroad was arrested on Friday for drunkenness and confined in the lockup over night. On Saturday he was tried before Justice Vail and fined $15 and costs which amounted to $22.95, which he paid. Immediately following, he was arrested for breach of the peace, tried and found guilty and sentenced for sixty days in Chelsea jail and $25 and costs which amounted to $35 and some cents. D. D. Howe sheriff and Chief of Police F. H. Ketchum of Randolph took him to Chelsea jail on Saturday night.

FAIRFAX FARMER'S LOSS.

Fire Destroys House and One Barn of Lucien Caswell.

Fairfax, March 2.—Fire destroyed the farm house and horse barn of Lucien Caswell at noon Saturday causing a loss of over $1,500. The insurance on all the buildings was $1,700, but the largest barn was saved. The fire caught in the attic of the house from a defective chimney and only a belated save from the upper floor. On the first floor the household furnishings were got out with the aid of neighbors who responded to the call for help by telephone.

The Caswell farm is five miles from this village on the St. Albans road. Mr. and Mrs. Caswell lived there alone. They are now at the home of their son-in-law, Mr. Craft.

BETHEL.

Death of David Dutton Occurred on Saturday Morning From Paralysis.

The death of David Dutton occurred on Saturday morning at 5 o'clock a. m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Kilday. Deceased had lived here for nearly twenty-five years, and is well known in town, having reached the age of 86 years. His death was the result of repeated attacks of the grippe, followed by two shocks of paralysis from which he never rallied.

Seven Years in Windsor For Theft.

Burlington, March 2.—Walter W. Baker, who robbed cottages at Starr farm some weeks ago and stole a large amount of valuable property, was sentenced Saturday in city court to seven years at hard labor in the state prison at Windsor.

Appointed Immigration Inspector.

Richford, March 2.—Arthur T. Greig, of the Calais detention house, has been appointed an inspector in the United States immigration service at a salary of $1,500
